

Northwestern University

Dear Henry:

Congratulations and welcome to Northwestern University! On behalf of Northwestern's faculty, staff, students, and alumni, it gives us great pleasure to share that you have been admitted to the Judd A. and Marjorie Weinberg College of Arts and Sciences as a transfer student.

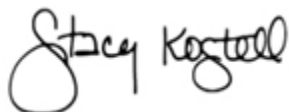

Our admission committee evaluates thousands of transfer applications each year from academically accomplished students like you. But among this pool of talented candidates, you struck us as a particularly compelling fit for Northwestern. You will be joining a vibrant community of engaged faculty and staff, students with diverse talents and backgrounds, and spirited alumni, and we are confident you will make a significant contribution to the life of the University, both in and out of the classroom.

Northwestern will immerse you in an environment with limitless possibilities to learn, make a difference, and create your path for future success—and you'll find support and inspiration along that path from deeply collaborative peers, teachers, and mentors. As we like to say, this will be an education all about you, in a community all about “we.” It's a learning culture we feel makes a Northwestern undergraduate experience not only academically exceptional, but personally transformative and truly special.

We encourage you to visit our admitted student website for official enrollment steps and opportunities to connect with the Northwestern community. Please note, our offer of admission is contingent upon the successful completion of your current academic year and a review of your final transcript.

It is our good fortune you chose to apply to Northwestern, and we look forward to welcoming you to campus. The years you spend here will be among the most memorable of your life.

Sincerely,

Stacey Kostell
