Dear Shi,

Thank you for applying to the University of Chicago. The Admissions Committee has reviewed your application, and we regret that we are unable to offer you admission at this time. However, given your impressive accomplishments—both academic and extra-curricular—we would like to offer you a place on our waiting list.

While we are currently unable to offer you admission, we recognize and commend your academic and personal achievements. This year's applicant pool was one of the largest and most competitive in the university's history. As a result, we found ourselves in the difficult position of being unable to offer admission to every worthy applicant.

Should space become available later in the spring or summer, we will revisit the files of students who have accepted a place on the waiting list. If you would like to be considered for admission at that time, please reply using our waitlist response form <<https://prospects.uchicago.edu/apply/form?id=feb76a90-61a3-4540-8d9d-cc24428b66f3>>. If you would like to provide any additional information to the committee, you may update your file in your UChicago Account.

Thank you again for your patience and continued interest in the University of Chicago. If you have any questions about your status, please contact Mason Heller, Director of Transfer Admissions, at masonnheller@uchicago.edu. We wish you the best as you pursue your educational goals—be it UChicago or another institution fortunate enough to have you on campus this fall.

Sincerely,

James G. Nondorf
Dean of Admissions and Financial Aid
